

TRANSFORMING GLASGOW'S CANAL

Inspired by the best of waterside regeneration from around the world Glasgow Canal Regeneration has the overriding aim of transforming and regenerating Glasgow's historic canal corridor. Read More

AN ILLUMINATING IDEA

The Whitehouse Bar in Maryhill will soon be transformed thanks to a unique new lighting project. Leading design firm Collective Architecture is working closely with young people throughout the Maryhill area... Read More

MOVING FORWARD IN MARYHILL

Work to revitalise Glasgow's canal corridor is moving on apace and nowhere is this more evident than in Maryhill. To help guide this revitalisation over the coming years the Glasgow Canal Regeneration Partnership... Read More

SPEIRS LOCKS APPOINTMENT

Make Architects has been appointed as masterplanners for the Speirs Locks project on the Glasgow branch of the Forth & Clyde Canal. The appointment followed a comprehensive design competition... Read More

CHILD'S PLAY

Two ground breaking youth projects are ensuring that young people living around the canal are getting a chance to shape regeneration proposals for the Speirs Locks area. Over 321 school pupils from three primary schools... Read More

UNDERPASS ART

The Cowcaddens pedestrian underpass, recognised as a key link point between Glasgow City Centre and the revitalised Forth and Clyde Canal, is now home to a permanent new artwork that aims to raise awareness of the... Read More

